

RASA

Transcendental music from India and beyond...

RASA offers a concert of Mystical World Music in a contemporary style that reaches beyond cultures and backgrounds to a universal level of experience. Their music taps into the ancient Vedic culture of India for inspiration and reinterprets classic songs of devotion.

Vocalist Kim Waters sings these devotional love songs in the original languages of Bengali, Sanskrit, and Hindi, while multi-instrumentalist Hans Christian weaves a unique blend of melodies and textures on traditional and contemporary instruments, using the cello, sarangi, nyckelharpa, sitara, bass, and electronic treatments.

Presenting these songs with their unique arrangements, RASA's music is soulful, soothing, spiritual and sacred. Respectful of the traditional sources, and very accessible to a western audience, their music blends meditative, transcendental, and ethereal qualities into an elegant, contemporary style.

RASA's presentation is 100% professional and is well placed wherever audiences gather to listen to quality performances.

"Top quality devotional music. It takes one to the highest realm".

"This dream music invokes the highest emotions of peace, harmony and devotion. Hans' great sarangi, sitara, and cello arrangements are superb while Kim's voice comes from another dimension."

-FRANK SERAFINE- composer, producer

"Beautiful devotional music that combines Eastern mystical prayers with lush western orchestration and ambience. Kim's singing, Hans' playing and arranging, deep, soulful prayers- this music really touches my heart."
